3. Program Convergence Title :	Agricultural Development Program

4. Implementing Agencies :

5. Program Description and Objectives :

The Agriculture Development Program (ADP) serves as a cornerstone of the government's economic agenda, recognizing the sector as a vital engine for growth and poverty alleviation. The program is designed to elevate the livelihoods of farmers and fisherfolk, safeguard national food security, and modernize the industry through robust rural infrastructure and scientific research. In alignment with the Philippine Development Plan (PDP) 2023–2028, the program adopts a "whole-of-nation" approach to transform agriculture into a source of high-quality jobs and competitive exports. This modernization strategy focuses on three transformative pillars: optimizing the "blue economy," revitalizing local food systems, and integrating production with processing and marketing. To achieve this vision, the ADP prioritizes four strategic outcomes: Production Efficiency: Driving growth through farm consolidation, income diversification, and advanced technology. Market Expansion: Increasing producer participation in value-added enterprises and improving physical and digital trade infrastructure. Climate Resilience: Embedding disaster-risk management and innovative insurance schemes into the agricultural value chain. Institutional Strengthening: Harmonizing government planning and aligning agricultural education with evolving industry demands.

8. Strategies and Activities/Projects to Achieve Targets :

FPA will streamline registration and licensing through simplified, risk-based processes and digital systems to reduce delays and improve transparency. Regional services will be strengthened through the operationalization of new FPA buildings, expanding access, monitoring, and enforcement capacity. Laboratory capability will be enhanced through upgraded facilities, modern equipment, and sustained accreditation to ensure reliable testing and analysis. Border control, monitoring, and enforcement activities will be intensified to improve compliance, supported by expanded training and education programs promoting the safe and judicious use of fertilizers and pesticides. Institutional efficiency will be reinforced through strengthened administrative systems, performance monitoring, and digitalization to enable data-driven decision-making and more responsive service delivery.

9. Proposed Measures to Address Implementing Issues/Gaps :

FPA will address process inefficiencies by automating workflows, updating policies, and standardizing procedures. Regional disparities will be reduced by fully operationalizing regional facilities and ensuring adequate personnel and resources. Laboratory gaps will be addressed through continued investments in equipment, training, and partnerships to expand testing capacity. Enforcement will be strengthened through improved case management and inter-agency coordination, while stakeholder compliance will be enhanced through sustained information and training initiatives. Organizational efficiency will be improved through better resource utilization and governance systems. Gaps in digital infrastructure will be addressed through integrated ICT systems, capacity-building, and strengthened data security and system sustainability.
